

Colleen Eccleston & John Gogo

Many Canadian roots music fans will already know the names Eccleston & Gogo. Both musical families go back a ways. Colleen and brother Kelt ("The Ecclestons") have been wowing audiences for years, as have John and his brothers. It was The Other Guys Theatre Company production 'Moodyville Tales' that brought the two artists together. The rapport and vocal blend they discovered was (further developed and enhanced while performing together in) put to further good use in the hit musical revue 'Good Timber'. Now these two seasoned performers bring their talents together again in the dynamic duo Colleen Eccleston & John Gogo. With 4 solo albums each to their credit and many tour stops throughout Canada and the US they are no strangers to the troubadour life!

"Colleen & John are two of Canada's finest singer/songwriters. Individually they are special - together they are magic. And they're really nice folks too." David Essig

That's high praise coming from a Canadian roots music icon!
